VIOLA BANKER IS A BANKRUPT

Opening of New Bank Causes Burgor to File Petition

A petition in bankruptcy has been filed by N. H. Burgor, a banker of Viola, with Commissioner Alfred Harrison of the United States court. Mr. Burgor has been in the mercantile trade at Viola for nearly twenty-five years, and for a dozen years has conducted in connection therewith a private bank. Two years ago, when the new banking code went into effect, Mr. Burgor did not avail himself of the law and take out a charter. Since that time he has labored under disadvantages that have been harmful to his business, and on the establishment of a state bank at Viola, his depositors made demands that he could not meet, and to protect creditors and give them an equal chance, he concluded to wind up his matters by the steps taken. He believes creditors will receive dollar for dollar as fast as securities and property can be realized on. The schedules filed in court show assets of $19,846.47, with $22,962.96 liabilities.
A trustee to wind up affairs will be appointed at an early date.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE ALMOST KILLED HER

STONE BUILDING IS A MYSTERY

West Salem Cannot Explain What Structure is to be Used for Residents of the village of West Salem are mystified over the construction of a large mercantile building which is in progress of erection on the main street of the village.

So far no one in the village has been able to ascertain who is building the structure or for what it is intended. That it is to be used for mercantile purposes there is no doubt, and residents are also assured that it will be the largest and most substantial building in the village.
Supervisor William McEldowney said this morning that the foundation walls were large enough to support a four story building. Residents have learned that the building is to be built of stone but know nothing further.
A man named Hegger of Bangor, who has been in the mining business in Mexico for several years, is superintending the construction of the building and paying off the employees. He is non-committal regarding the purposes for which the building is intended.

RECRUITING STATION FOR MARINE CORPS

La Crosse has a recruiting station for the United States Marine Corps, the first one ever established in this city. The station has been established at the Bronson hotel by Lieut. Brackett, U. S. N., where applicants for enlistment will be received. The examining surgeon is Dr. Oscar Honek. This is a branch of the navy. The marines serve aboard all large warships in the U. S. navy and ashore in our island possessions and in the U. S. at the big navy yards on either coast. The term of enlistment is for four years. Recruits leaving La Crosse have their choice between New York and San Francisco. From San Francisco the recruits go directly to the Philippines where they get regular war pay, 20 per cent extra. Corp. Calogne will be in active charge of the local station, which will be visited regularly by Lieut. Brackett. Unlike regular naval duty the marines have no menial work to do, but are put into active service at the guns and in case of trouble at work. The work gives them a variety of travel and does not necessitate their being caged up aboard ship as the ordinary naval enlistment sometimes does. An active campaign will be started here for recruits, the recruiting officers making a special effort to get sturdy young farmer boys, or young men from the classes of sturdy working people.

Hundreds Exposed to Diphtheria

FAITH HEALER HAD CASE

Dr. Callahan Called to Pratt Home Discovers Alarming Situation

The faith of Mrs. Haight, aged 60 years, mother of Mrs. James M. Pratt, 1541 Woods street in Christian Science healing methods brought her to the verge of death and exposed the pupils of the Tenth district school to a malignant form of diphtheria. The calling in of Dr. Callahan, a regular physician yesterday was all that saved the woman's life. Whether the contagion will break out among the children of the school which was attended by the children from her home, is yet to develop.
Mrs. Haight was taken ill about a week ago at the home of her daughter, and as she was a believer in Christian Science a Christian Science healer whose name is withheld, was summoned. The science was brought into play in vain and the aged lady grew steadily worse until yesterday when she nearly died during a choking spell.
Dr. J. L. Callahan was at once summoned and discovered one of the worst cases of diphtheria which has come under his notice for some time. Mrs. Haight's condition was such that she could not even swallow a mouthful of water. The house was at once quarantined and a card placed in a conspicuous place.
However, during the intervening time—while service was being rendered by the faith healer the children of Mrs. Pratt, at whose home Mrs. Haight was ill, attended the Tenth ward school regularly and affiliated with the other children as usual. Yesterday when the alarming state of affairs was discovered they were at once quarantined.
Friends of the family, not knowing the nature of the disease spent much time at the house with the old lady, consequently exposing their families and friends.
North side people who have been exposed and who have children attending the school in question are much wrought up over the matter and fear there will be an outbreak of the contagion.

JURY IN NEUMEISTER CASE HAS 22 QUESTIONS

Twenty-two questions will have to be answered in the special verdict prepared for the jury in the case of William Neumeister vs. Hiram Goddard.
A number of the questions are of a technical nature and lawyers in the court room this morning volunteered the opinion that it was the longest special verdict ever prepared in circuit court in this city. The jury has a trying task to perform in preparing the answers to these questions, confusion of the questions being possible.
Arguments in the case were started this morning and will occupy the balance of the day. The case may not go to the jury until tomorrow morning.

A PARALYTIC'S CORRECT JUDGMENT

Tried Osteopathy Despite the Condemnation of Medical Men, With Rapid Recovery as the Result.—How the Value of Prejudiced Opinions May be Estimated.

There is no antagonism between Osteopaths and other physicians—so far as the Osteopaths are concerned; and it is no part of the purpose of this journal to foster such an antagonism. On the contrary, we believe that all the world concurs with us in the belief that honest workers for the public health should co-operate whenever and wherever such co-operation can be of any possible advantage to patients; and that, above all, no physician should ever assume that the system which he and his immediate professional associates follow embodies all that is good and nothing that is bad. In this day of research and progress such a position is ludicrous as well as untenable.

Yet it must be noted that a large part of the medical profession has assumed just such an attitude toward Osteopathy, while at the same time making greater admissions daily as to the inadequacy—and even as to the positive harmfulness—of drugs.

Ignorance or Prejudice?

Recently a wealthy man of whom we have knowledge was left partially paralyzed after a stroke of apoplexy. The two distinguished physicians in the case—perhaps none are better known in the medical profession today—wrought no improvement in the course of two months' drug administration. The patient then had an examination privately by an Osteopath, who found decided misadjustments in spinal column which were undoubtedly responsible for the trouble. The patient attempted to bring about a consultation between the medical men and the Osteopathic physician, but the former declared that they would not consent to such an arrangement and that they had no desire to hear what the Osteopath had to say. They informed the patient

First—That Osteopaths are all "fakes."

Second—That they have only six months alleged schooling and then pretend to cure disease.

Third—That there should be legislation to prevent Osteopaths from practicing at all.

Now, as these physicians are generally regarded as honorable men, we can only think that they believed what they said. Indeed, we would much rather believe this, for ignorance may at least be respectable, while dishonesty and deliberate deception never can be.

Unfortunately for the plan of the two medical men—who plainly had not thought possible any other result than the dismissal of the Osteopath—Mr. Patient had a mind of his own and was quite accustomed to forming his own judgments.

Medical Doctors Dismissed.

He declared that he had known the Osteopath for years and that the said Osteopath had gone through a long course of training for his profession; that he knew him to be an honest man and in consequence did not believe he would have anything to do with a system that was a "fake." He moreover expressed the opinion that Osteopathy could scarcely make a more signal failure than the drug system had in his case; and that he did not propose to offer his life as a sacrifice to the prejudices of the drug system.

His physicians were obdurate, however; the Osteopath must be dismissed or they would drop the case. Mr. Patient was game, told them to send in their bill, and they left in high dudgeon.

The Osteopath, who in reality served through more months of study than are required by the most stringent medical laws in any state of the Union—including a full Osteopathic college course—went right to work.

Drugging stopped entirely.

Scientific readjustment began.

As the obstructions to circulation were gradually done away with, the blood flow became freer, carrying with it the restoratives of Nature and draining away the congested waste of disease.

As pressure upon nerves became lessened, their action became more vigorous, more nearly normal, and sensation and motion in the paralyzed side followed as natural results of Nature's own healing.

The Net Result To Date.

At this writing, ten days after Osteopathic treatment began, the patient is already able to walk to his carriage and get the benefit of daily drives; his left arm, which had been absolutely inert, he can now raise and lower with little effort. His progress has been very rapid—more rapid, indeed, than is usual in such cases—and the prospect of completely restored good health is so good as to amount to certainty.

In this connection it should be stated that many old-school physicians—unbiased in their judgment and desiring only the restoration to health of their patients—are already sending many people to Osteopaths for treatment; and the results are most satisfactory all round. The Osteopath appreciates such evidence of liberty and of course observes the professional courtesies; the patient is benefited or cured; and the medical doctor reaps his reward through retaining completely the confidence of his patient.

Weighing the Medic's Opinion.

If your family physician, of whatever school, has always proved equal to the occasion and has cured definite disease without destroying general health by indiscriminate drugging, his opinion, taken in conjunction with the circumstances under which it is given, is unquestionably entitled to some weight.

But if he has failed in your case—perhaps permitted it to become chronic—his condemnation of a rational system, to which he is not willing to give a fair trial, should scarcely be accepted at its face value.

Osteopathy never asks anything more than a fair trial and is willing to be judged by its works. If the patient told of above had dismissed the Osteopath when his other doctors said "fake," he would still be helpless.

If you are interested in knowing what hope of cure there is for you, by this new method of healing, you are requested to call at 501-3 McMillan Bldg. Dr. A. U. Jorris, the only physician in the city who is regularly licensed by the state to practice osteopathy. All diseases treated.

forming his own judgments.

TOMORROW NIGHTS' ATTRACTION TO BE FINE

PLAY-GOERS MUST NOT MISS TREAT

Fully twenty-five classified musical numbers and innumerable incidental melody briefs are embodied in "Lady Teazle," the gorgeous musical production provided for Grace Van Studdiford, the Messrs. Shubert's queenly comic opera star, to be seen in this city Saturday, Nov. 11th. Ten in the first act showing the garden of Lady Teazle's home—seven in the second act—the library in Joseph Surface's house—and six in the third act—the ballroom in Sir Oliver Surface's domicile. About twenty of these numbers are songs, solos, trios, quartets, octettes, etc., including "The Hypocrite," "You Mustn't Do That in High Society," "The Scandal Club," "Charity," "Love by Proxy," "In Dear Old Grandma's Day," "Were I Happily Married," "The Power of the Press," "Here's to the Maiden of Bashful Fifteen," "Dear Old London Town," "The Auction," "The Consciousness of Innocence," "The Dainty Little Milliner," "The Wherefore and the Why," "Macaroni's We," "You've Lied to Me," "Tittle Tattle" and "Would You?"

The orchestra and chorus features and the various marches, entrances, ensembles, dances, finales, etc., include "The Smart Set," "Roger De Coverly," "The Gay Divorcee," "The Dance," etc., and many other melody numbers incidental to the gay doing of the skylarking "School for Scandal" characters represented in "Lady Teazle's" three exquisite acts.

The new opera, with the renowned beauty and vocal celebrity glittering predominately as the bewitching Lady Teazle, comes to us after a most remarkable Broadway season at the Casino, the Messrs. Shubert's fashionable New York playhouse, where both press and public were pleased to look upon the production as the season's most pretentious musical offering. The management assures us that the cast and chorus are the finest that money and good judgment can secure, that the orchestra is composed of the same number of instruments that rendered the strains for Broadway, and that the same detail attention is to be given to the scenic and costume effects that has characterized the production all alone. A full description of the piece itself and a record of just how it will be interpreted in this city need not be advanced here, but we can say without any taint of speculation that the enterprise, if made up according to the announcement, composes the strongest and largest singing company in this country.

While an unusually good patronage has been enjoyed by the Bijou theatre this week, the attractions which are to be offered for next week should prove a drawing card. The program includes Mantell's Marionettes, Hart & Dillon, in a musical act; Edwin

On the affirmative side of the question were M. M. Downey, C. C. Looney and A. A. Zimmer rendered some very good argument stating that by the repeal of the divorce laws, society in general would be benefited as the laws regarding divorce are very much abused and anyone could get a divorce on very slight reasons.

The negative however argued that the present laws were alright but that they should be more stringent.

The jurors, Geo. B. Marvin, Jr., G. F. Flynn, and C. H. White rendered their verdict two to one in favor of the negative.

Arrangements for the banquet will be completed Monday when the committee will meet at the home of M. M. Downey.

Col. Copeland at Viroqua

The coming of Department Commander Copeland and his assistant adjutant, W. L. Osborne, both of La Crosse, on an official visit, was a happy occasion for Viroqua Grand Army boys, Monday evening, says the Viroqua Censor. The meeting was well attended by old soldiers, members of the Relief Corps and a number of citizens, J. Henry Tate presiding. After work of the post had been concluded a season was given to brief talks. Department Commander Copeland told of his pleasure in visiting the 150 posts in the state hoping it would have a tendency to revive and assist the order. Adjutant Osborne spoke feelingly on soldier comradeship and fraternity. General Rogers, Capt. McMichael, O. P. Hill, M. V. B. Richards and others made timely talks and suggestions and related incidents of army life. Ladies of the Relief Corps gave a lap spread, after which familiar songs, marches and visiting were the order. It was a most pleasant fraternal gathering throughout.

GRAFTER WORKS SMALL TOWNS

A smooth crook is reported to be in this section again and has already worked his graft successfully at Dakota, a small village north of La Crosse on the Milwaukee road. He visited that place recently, going there from Winona, and introduced himself as a traveling man selling glassware for a St. Paul house.

His game was thoroughly planned and worked smoothly. After explaining his line of goods he requested them to go to Winona and look over his outfit offering to pay their expenses. Before leaving the merchant, he would purchase some article such as gloves or clothing.

When it came to paying for the goods purchased, he would be short of change and would present an expensive check which the merchants would gladly cash keeping back the amount of the purchase made. These checks were from $11 to $15 and were later found to be worthless to the sorrow of the business men of that place.

He reported to have his samples in Winona but nothing has been seen of the gentleman in Winona and he undoubtedly used the name of Winona as a blind to work his graft better. There are no other reports of him working his game on business men of the smaller towns surrounding Winona but he undoubtedly will continue his business in some locality until caught.

GROOM INTENDED VICTIM OF "Y" ROBBERY

AUG. ZERATSKY HAD THE MONEY

The following story, explaining the mysterious robbery which occurred recently at the Y. M. C. A. building, is told in a dispatch from Marinette, where August Zeratsky, recently married went on his wedding tour:

"August Zeratsky, Jr., a business man of La Crosse, narrowly escaped robbery on the eve of his wedding, according to a story told by him while on his honeymoon here. He had drawn several hundred dollars from the bank at La Crosse and went to his room in the La Crosse Y. M. C. A. building. Shortly afterward other tenants of the building heard a strange tapping on the floor and, investigating, discovered a young man in the next room, bound and gagged. Two masked men had followed Zeratsky home, but had mistaken the room and held up another man, whom they threatened to kill because he said he would not give them the roll of money which they were sure he possessed."

Will Buy Other Boats

The southern interests which pursued the excursion steamer Columbia, as announced Monday, it is said are seeking to secure other boats in this locality for removal to the south, and that two additional purchases already have been made. Two of the bow boats of the Van Sant fleet have been secured, the Virginia, which is the rebuilt West Rambo and is only barely completed at the boat works at Wabasha, and the Phil Scheckel. It is said that the steamer Fountain City was looked over at Fountain City yesterday, but the deal for its purchase was not closed.

OLD FASHIONED FARE.

Hot Biscuits, Griddle-Cakes, Pies and Puddings.

The food that made the fathers strong is sometimes unfit for the children under the new conditions that our changing civilization is constantly bringing in. One of Mr. Bryan's neighbors in the great state of Nebraska writes:

"I was raised in the South, where hot biscuits, griddle cakes, pies and puddings are eaten at almost every meal, and by the time I located in Nebraska I found myself a sufferer from indigestion and its attendant ills—distress and pains after meals, an almost constant headache, dull, heavy sleepiness by day and sleeplessness at night, loss of flesh, impaired memory, etc., etc.

"I was rapidly becoming incapacitated for business, when a valued friend suggested a change in my diet, the abandonment of heavy, rich stuff and the use of Grape-Nuts food. I followed the good advice and shall always be thankful that I did so.

"Whatever may be the experience of others, the beneficial effects of the change were apparent in my case almost immediately. My stomach, which had rejected other food for so long, took to Grape-Nuts most kindly; in a day or two my headache was gone; I began to sleep healthfully and before a week was out the scales showed that my lost weight was coming back. My memory was restored with the renewed vigor that I felt in body and mind. For three years now Grape-Nuts food has kept me in prime condition, and I propose it shall for the rest of my days.

"And by the way, my 2½ year old baby is as fond of Grape-Nuts as I am, always insists on having it. It keeps her as healthy and hearty as they make them." Name given by Postum Co. Battle Creek, Mich. There's a reason.

REBEKAH LODGES OF LA CROSSE DIST. MEET TONIGHT

Rebekahs of the La Crosse district will assemble in this city tonight as the guests of the Myron P. Lindsay lodge. The state is divided into thirty-one districts and the lodges in the eighth district which will meet there are the following:

Neillsville, No. 94.
Melrose, No. 178.
Black River Falls, No. 81.
Mauston, No. 61.
Viroqua, No. 28.
Tomah, No. 92.
Bangor, No. 179.
Merrillan, No. 188.
Alma Center, No. 65.
Whitehall, No. 150.
Cashton, No. 172.
Sparta, No. 41.
Fountain City, No. 144.
La Crosse, No. 104.

Officers of the district organization will be present.

The program of the afternoon meeting includes the school of instruction and election of officers. A 6 o'clock supper will be served after which an evening program of addresses will be begun. The speakers will be named by the committee in charge.

An initiation will be held under the auspices of the La Crosse staff.

The larger part of the evening session will be devoted to dancing.

The committee on arrangements consists of Hattie Kirchner, Lizzie Wynne and Anna Ferguson.

WILL NOT PUT BAN ON MUSIC

Committees of the common council last night decided to kill the ordinance banishing music from saloons, aldermen present contending that the police had power to regulate the conduct of saloons and that well conducted places should not be punished because a few disorderly saloons drew custom with disorder.

Alderman Lang's ordinance providing for free admittance of aldermen and city officials to all public places of amusement was referred to the committee. There was considerable talk against it, indicating that the measure will be killed later.

It was decided to change the street railway tracks between the north and south sides so that the rails shall be no nearer than 16 feet to the sidewalk.

AUDITORIUM PLAN FORMED AT BAND MEETING

Preliminary steps looking toward the construction of an auditorium for large local gatherings and conventions were taken last night when the La Crosse Musical association organized.

It Takes Nerve

Everything depends upon your nerves. It is nerve force that causes the brain to direct the motion of your body; it is nerve force that causes your heart to pulsate, and send the blood through your veins; it is nerve force that causes your stomach to digest food, your kidneys to filter the blood, and the liver to secrete bile.

In fact, nerve force is the power that runs your body, so if you feel worn-out, irritable, nervous, cannot sleep, or eat well, have pain or misery anywhere, your nerves are weak, and your system run-down. To restore this vitality take Dr. Miles' Nerve which will strengthen and build up the nerves. You cannot be healthy without strong nerves.

"For eighteen years Dr. Miles' Nerve and Anti-Pain Pills have been my close companions. Early in married life, while raising children, my nerves became all worn-out—could not sleep, had no appetite, indigestion very bad, and had such awful dizzy spells. Then I began using Dr. Miles' Nerve, and at once I began to improve, and soon found myself in perfect health."

Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

The organization starts with 50 members and while it is formed primarily to promote the interests of Dana's Third regiment band the construction of an auditorium will be one of its main objects. Membership costs $1 and it is planned to have 500 members before the end of the week.

A series of ten band concerts has been arranged to be given in the theatre during the winter. After the meeting last evening the members of the corporation were entertained by a band concert.

The following officers and directors were elected:

President—Orlando Holway.
Vice president—W. Wiggernhorn.
Treasurer—George W. Burton.
Secretary—W. S. Woods.
Directors—George M. Heath, Ald. G. A. Keller, John P. Salzer, C. S. Van Auker and W. B. Tscherner.

MRS. GERMAIN GETS A DIVORCE

Judge Fruit yesterday afternoon granted a divorce to Maud R. Germain from her husband, Jules Germain. Mr. Germain is addicted to intoxication and has been in almost constant trouble with the police during the last few years. Mrs. Germain was granted the custody of the four children and allowed $12 monthly alimony.

TO MERCHANT ADVERTISERS.

- It is of importance to every merchant in this city that he know as nearly as possible the relative circulations of the newspapers in which he advertises.
- So far as the city is concerned, the most practical way of determining circulation is by a canvass of the entire city. This will eliminate the possibility of "padding."
- We therefore make this offer to the La Crosse Retail Merchants' Association:
- The Tribune will contribute to the Merchants' Association one-third (1-3) the expense of such a canvass, upon the following conditions:
- A committee to have charge of the canvass shall be chosen at a regular meeting of the association, said committee to be elected, and not appointed by the chair.
- The fact that said committee is to be elected shall be advertised in the daily papers at least one week prior to said meeting.
- Said committee shall employ canvassers to make a systematic canvass of the city, and said canvassers shall report by blocks the exact number of subscribers each paper has in each and every block in the city.
- Canvassers shall also make inquiry of subscribers as to whether they have ordered any papers coming to their homes, whether they read them, and expect to pay for them, and whether they have ordered any papers stopped that continue to come to their homes, and whether any such papers are "sample copies," or are delivered on approval.
- Of course the Leader-Press and The Chronicle will agree to defray one-third each of this expense, so there should be no delay in causing the canvass to be made. Or perhaps they will decline, "for business reasons."

TO ENFORCE THE SMOKE ORDINANCE.

There is a smoke ordinance in La Crosse. There is no particular reason for presuming this, unless one happens to have examined the records of council proceedings. However, there is a smoke ordinance.

There is also smoke in La Crosse—dirty, rank soft coal smoke that blackens the washing of the housewives on the lines and makes murky the paint on the freshly dressed buildings and sifts through the window and door sills onto our carpets and gets onto our linen and into our eyes and ears and lungs. It comes from the plant of SOME PEOPLE and injures the property and health of OTHER PEOPLE who have plants of their own that might pour out filthy volumes of smoke in retaliation but who for decency sake go to the small expense and bother of preventing their businesses becoming public nuisances.

And now, it is said, the smoke ordinance will be enforced. That is good. It was not enforced in the past largely because it was so drawn as to leave some ambiguity as to whose duty it was to enforce it. It is about time for this mooted point to be settled, and it has been said by one of the officials whose duty it may or may not have been to force observance of the law, that he has concluded to set doubt aside and proceed to the performance of the duty of the somebody intended to be charged by the ordinance. The official who said this is a man who usually delivers the goods, and we take pleasure in presuming that the smoke ordinance will now be enforced. Failure to do so will soon result in an up heaval of dissatisfaction that will be unpleasant, and should be unnecessary.

"JIM" HILL ON "HIGH FINANCE."

"Jim" Hill, of the Great Northern, is quoted as saying on his return from a trip to the Pacific coast, that "the west is greatly wrought up by the insurance exposures" and that "some drastic legislation is likely to follow the doings of these 'high finance rascals'."

Good for "Jim"! He knows one of these "high finance" rascals when he sees him. There's something familiar about the breed—like looking into a mirror.

Wonder if "Jim" remembers that Northern Pacific "deal" in Wall

DOWIE CAN'T PRINT LEAVES OF HEALING

KENOSHA, Wis., Nov. 10.—Unable to get paper on which to print the weekly issue of the Leaves of Healing, with the stock all gone, the printing forces of Zion City are facing the hardest pinch of all. The paper houses will trust Dowie no more. This is the first time in seven years that the weekly issue of Leaves of Healing has been held up.

The ostensible reason of Dowie's home-coming by way of New York is the benefit of the sea air.

The real reason is said to be that he intends bonding the entire Lake county city of Zion in pursuance of the policy of booming the Mexican plantation and that he is seeking New York capital for this purpose.

Utter House at Trempealeau is Burned to Ground

The Utter house, one of the famous landmarks of Trempealeau, build by S. D. Hastings in the sixties at the time he was elected state treasurer, was destroyed by fire Tuesday night. Most of the contents consisting of household goods of Mrs. Frank Utter, were saved.

street? Just a little "flyer" that ruined hundreds of men financially, caused a few early deaths and some paltry suicides. But "Jim" and the Hariman crowd had to have it out for the control, and they'd "be damned if they'd quit" just to save a few "petty plungers" from damnation.

Right you are "Jim" The west is much wrought up over the insurance scandals and THOSE "high financiers"—and OTHER high financiers—are likely to find themselves curbed by some "drastic legislation." And incidents like the Northern Pacific corner will give a man a ticket for the penitentiary when that happy day of "drastic legislation" comes.

NO JOKE IN THIS IDEA.

There has been a good deal of laughter about a proposed ordinance to give city officials free access to public entertainments. It is not a joke, if we may judge from analogy. Other cities have such an ordinance, the purpose being to permit at all times the fullest public inspection of these places. There should be no dissent from the idea that this plan is a good one. It is to be presumed that our city officials have too much dignity to make such an ordinance a means of securing free entertainment, and until the privilege has been granted and abused, there should be no insinuations that a pleasure-loving administration is planning a constant lark for itself at the expense of private enterprise. The ordinance as originally drawn was faulty, but its intent was nevertheless good.

JUST A NON PARTISAN INCIDENT.

"Republicans in Dispair," is the headline that appears in a metropolitan morning daily over a dispatch telling of the defeat of the republican machines in Ohio and Philadelphia.

Nothing to worry about, so far as good republicans are concerned! The citizen element of the republican party helped the democrats to put some thoroughly rotten republican machines out of commission, that's all. That Cox is on the shelf would probably add to Roosevelt's vote in Ohio (were Roosevelt to run again which (Oh no!) he won't). The confusion that fell upon the head of Penrose in Pennsylvania is not likely to affect at all the outcome of any square election in which the parties are pitted against each other running honest men upon honest platforms. It is all right to be optimists, but democrats who permit themselves to see in this uprising of all the people against "gang" rule a sign that a democratic landslide is in sight are likely to suffer disappointment as the result of too sanguine diagnosis of their political patient.

JUST LIFE

The Oak Valley correspondent in the Strum Globe offers advice to the love-lorn as follows:

Miss Mollie Sedahl helped Mrs. I. Skoyen in threshing.

Emma O. Goplin left for Chicago last week. What for or when she'll return we haven't learned.

Say Belle, when do you suppose the next snow will come?

Somebody received a letter last week that was six by four inches, weighed about four ounces and contained a pile of love stories. Can you guess who sent it? Yes, Inga can.

A dead horse was seen on the bluff last week. Was it your old pet Cleve, Sigrid?

The Sedahl girls have bought themselves brand new cloaks. Funny that the Oak Valley people have to be alike.

John Berg has returned from Dakota. Now the red wheels are to be seen too.

Somebody had a long journey to drive when at the dance at Evenson's. When did you get home Bennie and Pete.

There's a farmer who has a cat that eats honey. Yes, eats it with a knife.

Martin Skoyen made an enjoyable call at H.'s one Sunday morning. Hope it didn't snow there.

Nobody wonders who Golden Valley is as we all know.

Wonder if Jake made a mash that Saturday night?

Say Julia, O. has left now so I suppose he won't peep over the ridge any more.

Oliver, wake up.

Don't--oh, don't--be satisfied with mere fit alone. Go into the question of quality, tailorship, and all that. And just as sure as you do look into these important considerations you will realize the remarkable value giving powers of The Continental.

X-RAYS ON THE CHICAGO "TRIB"

By August E. Gans, C. E.

What the Chicago Tribune of the 4th inst. is pleased to call the "aristocracy" of the Municipal Ownership League of Chicago it reports, in an article of that date, as about to form, under the mayor's and Corporation Counsel Lewis' leading auspices, a new municipal ownership league under the name—invented for the occasion in all likelihood by the gifted author of that article—of "Dalrymple League!"

If the readers of the La Crosse Tribune remember my article in its columns of last month on municipal ownership, they will not be astonished at my expressing the opinion that this eventuality as expressed by the child of Medill (whose "aristocratic" estate amounted to two millions of dollars, when he died) is in all probability a "fake" printed simply because it was "good stuff," and paid for with about three dollars—if at all.

To speak of "aristocracy" in the municipal ownership question of Chicago is as absurd as to speak of the aristocracy of a mining or lumber camp. The common people of Chicago, the laboring and working bone and sinew of that city demand city ownership and city operation of street railroads.

When a petition of the necessary names was carried some years ago from an office in the Unity building to the office of the election commissioners in the city hall, and enforced the "referendum" to the people of the question of franchises, it was wrapped in a large and democratic flag of the U. S., which is still preserved by the writer as the "referendum flag" of the city of Chicago.

Not one single name excepting that of T. P. Quinn mentioned in that fake production of the Chicago Tribune but what is scented with political onion-juice. Its publication was no doubt intended to increase the confusion among the average citizens, who need—I regret to say—education on every public question ever brought before the people. But I wonder how, for instance, Mr. Clarence Darrow, special traction counsel, felt when he saw himself mentioned as one of the "aristocracy" of municipal ownership, about to form a "Dalrymple league," with the "esoteric mystery" of Dalrymple's report to Dunn as its holiest of holies.

I am disclosing no secret when I say that Clarence Darrow, the people's party man, the single taxer, the Altgeld man, the democrat, is also one of the ten signers of a call of the "Inter-collegiate Socialist Society" or association, recommending to collegians the closer study of socialism.

If any of your readers know of anything more ridiculously absurd than an aristocratic socialist, I trust he will not hesitate to make his discovery known to the people through your paper, at the very earliest date as a patriotic duty.

I cannot—in spite of the tremendous temptation—continue to allow the municipal ownership question to force me into what might be branded as "personalities," but its deliberate perversion into a contemptible political mess, its deliberate transformation into confusion worse confounded by the traction allies, as well as the almost felonious ignoring of the people's officially expressed will, by the people's public servants, known as city council is so clear and so plain that I need not waste more words in expressing these facts.

Permit me to revert to my previous opinion, as expressed in your paper, now vindicated by events as correct—that the city council of Chicago would "kill" any other plan beside Dunne's "contract plan," which was also opposed by "the Municipal Ownership League," and that herein lay the fundamental difference between the two bodies.

The city council has refused to endorse the plan to buy the tangible property of surface railroad lines, the purchases of which are dead by expiration with Miller certificates, authorized by law!

And a certain fellow-citizen, whose wealth and frequent absences from Chicago, have heretofore made him immune to personal criticism, has allowed himself to be drawn into "municipal ownership" by being quoted as opposed to it, and to Miller certificates.

Now when we have forgiven him his forced support with cash of a journal, whose editor finally served the state: we have forgiven him having been the power behind the throne in the Pullman strike—the second largest stockholder in the company, which "ran" the town of Pullman, with all its abominations, declared illegal by the U. S. supreme court, years after it might have helped the strike!

But we would fain be permitted to suggest in aid of domestic felicity to that lustrous luminary of our "four hundred," that a devotion to making Prairie avenue the mecca of "sassy" in lawless automobiles will constitute him far more the king of that part of the people, than will "good fellowship" with traction magnates—based upon a fell feeling the same "stock," and jingling the same dividends, either past or present, will make him our friend!

It will take a good deal of "nerve" to dissect any statement made by a man, who does not know himself how rich he is, and who may start a big newspaper of his own, simply to exploit his own dicta—but it can be done!

SUES HOTEL FOR LOSING HIS DOG

LONDON, Nov. 9.—The sad story of the loss by a millionaire's son of a dog for which he paid two shillings and sixpence a day to be put up at Claridge's hotel, was told before Mr. Justice Bray yesterday afternoon.

Plaintiff in the case was Mr. Henry Carnegie Phipps, the son of an American millionaire. In July, 1904, Mr. Phipps was staying at Claridge's with his father, brothers, sisters and a party of friends.

He had arranged to go up to Scotland on Monday, July 25, and on July 24 he bought from a gentleman at Ealing three Scotch terriers, giving £100 ($500) for the three. One of them, Tibby, he valued at $300.

The dogs were delivered on Monday and were put in a storeroom until it was time to start for Scotland, but when the time to start came it was found that, while Tibby's companions were safe, Tibby herself had mysteriously disappeared.

Mr. Phipps caught his train to Scotland, but left his valet behind to search for the truant Tibby. Alas, she was not to be found. So Mr. Phipps brought an action to recover her value against the hotel, which denied any liability.

In the witness box Mr. Phipps, who, in a very modest manner, confessed that he was a citizen of the United States, described how he bought the dogs, and stated that he had before taken dogs to Claridge's, where they were accommodated at two shillings and sixpence each per diem.

Mr. Phipps then told of the arrival of the dogs, they came at ten o'clock on Monday morning, and with Mr. Phipps there were in the hall entrance ready drawn up to receive them the hall porter and several managers, while hotel servants escorted the dogs to their quarters in the storeroom.

For the defence the manager of the hotel stated that they did not take charge of dogs at all, they were under the charge of the persons who brought them to the hotel. Mr. Justice Bray, awarded the plaintiff $300, the full value of Tibby together with costs.

FIT FOR A KING

Is the "Oriental Limited" of the Great Northern Railway.

The greatest luxury of travel is afforded by the "Oriental Limited" of the Great Northern Railway. A distinctive feature of this train is the new compartment observation library car. In the construction of these cars the purpose in view has been to furnish the traveling public with every comfort and luxury which they could secure at a first-class hotel or at their club. Ease, elegance and excellence is the combination sought and obtained in the building of these cars. The observation rooms of these cars are finished in vermillion wood and the chairs are upholstered in green leather, the remainder of the furnishings being in harmony with the general color scheme. The card room is finished in English oak with green leather seat coverings. The four state rooms, which are unusually large, are finished in mahogany, coco, vermillion and tonquin, while the furnishings are olive, reddish rose, green and maroon plush, in the order named. The drawing room is finished in mahogany and all furnishings are golden brown plush.

The rear half of these cars is devoted to observation room, handsomely furnished with easy chairs, writing desks, etc. Wide plate glass windows afford unobstructed views of the surrounding country. Those who enjoy being in the open air will find comfortable seats on the protected rear platform.

Current periodicals, a branch of the Booklovers' Library, also the latest newspapers obtainable at starting point and en route are always at the service of patrons.

A good meal enhances the pleasure of a journey, a poor one destroys it. It is safe to say that of this important feature of modern train equipment, the Great Northern railway has established a standard for excellence which helps make an overland journey something to anticipate. All meals served a la carte.

ST. CAR WRECKS WAGON OF FRED ROWE ON N. SIDE

Attempted to Drive in Front of Car When Motor Strikes Wagon-- Victim not Badly Hurt.

About seven o'clock last evening a street car struck Fred Rowe as he was about to cross the tracks at the corner of Gillette and George streets.

Mr. Rowe who resides on the Wischirchen hill near Grand Crossing, was returning home from the south side where he had delivered a load of wood and was in a hurry to get home. The electric lights were not lighted last evening as the moon was shining quite brightly. Mr. Rowe pulled to one side clear of the red light which had been put up at that corner where a ditch had been dug and did not think of the street car until it was almost upon him.

When he saw the car approaching he pulled up his horses then whipped them up with the expectation of clearing the tracks but the car struck the front wheel of the wagon with a crash which brought a large crowd to the scene within a few moments.

As the man was sitting directly above the wheels which were struck by the car the motorman at first thought the man must have been seriously if not fatally injured.

Rowe received a hard jolt on the back of the head and other minor bruises, but was able to be about to day. When the car struck the wagon it was shoved along about twenty feet, one of the horses passing under the pole and the other rolling on top of him and when the two were at last brought to their feet they had exchanged places at the pole.

Frank Kriaski was in Matsdorf's barber shop when the crash came and at once jumped out of the chair and ran to the corner with the hair cloth still around his shoulders and assisted in loosening the harness and extricating the horses, one of which was badly bruised.

It is not known where the blame has been placed, but it is said that the car was running fast and that no bell was rung although it is said that when the man pulled up his horses the motorman let out the brakes.

The spokes of the front wheel which are very heavy were all snapped off at the hub and the center beams of the wagon were cracked which show that the car must have struck it very forcibly. The headlight of the car was damaged.

Roggensack Bros., in front of whose place the wagon was thrown, are now repairing it.

BURLINGTON NOTES

An empty coal car was derailed and thrown crosswise across the track in the northern part of the yards this morning. As it was not on the main line traffic was not delayed and the car was soon righted.

Uncle Tom and on the other by his weeping mother, four sisters, and Aunt Sallie, he was in possession of twenty-eight teeth. When Frank and the aggregation of solicitous relatives returned to the little house at 210 Taylor street two hours later Frank had twenty-seven teeth in his head and one in his pocket. The twenty-eighth tooth had been transferred from the upper jaw of the lad's mouth by order of the court.

Justice Caverly prescribed the extraction of the lad's tooth as a cure for habitual truancy. The dingy little courtroom at 128 Clark street was thronged to the doors with parents who had failed to obey the law which requires them to send their children to school when Frank's case was called.

Out of School Five Days.

Frank's teacher and Supt. Bodine testified that the lad had been absent from school five days this term and that his attendance last year was only spasmodic.

"Why do you bum from school?" demanded Justice Caverly.

"I had the toothache," declared Frank.

"You didn't have the toothache this year and last year, too, did you?" asked the court.

"Yes, sir," replied the boy. The father was questioned.

"Why have you kept your son out of school in violation of the law?" demanded Justice Caverly.

"He had the toothache," answered the father.

The mother was sworn. "What do you mean by not sending your son to school?" asked the court.

"He had the toothache," sobbed the mother.

"Has he had the toothache for a year?" pursued the court.

"Yes, your honor."

"Didn't Think of It."

"Why didn't you have the tooth pulled?" inquired the court.

"We didn't think of it," explained the father. "We didn't think it amounted to much."

"Five dollars and costs," said Justice Caverly. The boy and his relatives turned to go.

"Wait a minute," interrupted the justice. "I want you to have that you don't I'll have you brought in here next week and will fine you $20 and costs."

Had to Mind the Baby. August Zakushek told the court he had not sent Annie to school because

"she had to mind the baby." "Ten dollars and costs," pronounced the court.

One after another the fathers and mothers told why they had failed to comply with the compulsory education law. Here is a summary of the excuses they gave:

Had to mind the baby (4).

Father had rheumatism and eight children.

Sister had broken leg and mother was sick.

Ex-Ald. Jozwiakowski told her she didn't have to go to school.

Had to stay home when mother did the washing.

Had sore head.

Didn't want his daughter any wiser.

Had to carry dinner pail to her father.

Had to drive his father's wagon (3).

Teacher wouldn't let him go to school (2).

Eight of the fathers were fined $5 and costs, one was given the maximum, and two paid $10 fines.

football in consequence of the death of Right Tackle James Squires of the Alton High school Rugby team from injuries he sustained in a game with the East St. Louis High school two weeks ago. Supt. Haight says there will be no more football in the Alton schools and the team has been disbanded in acquiescence to the sentiment aroused by the death of Squires. The funeral of the victim of the game was held yesterday afternoon.

Capt. E. D. Enos of the Alton team, whose collar bone was broken in the same game, was at the funeral swathed in bandages.

The Rev. J. A. Scarritt, who officiated at the funeral, condemned the Rugby game as being similar to the Spanish bull fight in point of brutality and characterized as a national error the public sentiment that would tolerate a continuance of the Rugby game in schools and college.

Jews Call for Help

La Crosse Jewish societies yesterday issued a call for a mass meeting of Jews to be held in this city Sunday for the purpose of raising funds to assist Jews who are suffering in Russia as a result of the massacres and internal dissensions. The meeting will be held in the synagogue on North Eleventh street at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon. The call is as follows:

Dear Sirs—You are earnestly requested to assemble at a mass meeting, which will be held by all the Jews of our city and vicinity, Sunday,

Nov. 12, 1905, at 2 p. m., at the synagogue, 141 North Eleventh street.

The object of this mass meeting is to make arrangements to render a protest against the terrible Russian massacres upon the Jews, and do something to raise funds to relieve the distressed who were ruined through the riots and massacres.

There will probably be arrangements made as to the celebration of the two hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the Jewish settlement of this country.

Sisters and brothers, if you are true and faithful Jews, now is the time to show yourselves so. Do not wait for someone else to do what you should do. Come out and show your sympathy, even if you cannot contribute anything but time, and show that the Jew is not a coward, but can raise his voice in protest at least. Do not fail to come.

Trusting you will participate in this meeting, both yourself and family, we are, respectfully yours.
